

Eric's RV Performance Center

275 S. 7th Avenue

SEQUIM, WA 98382

(800) 488-3697 (360) 683-3696

At Eric's RV Performance center it is important that you feel confident about the handling characteristics of your vehicle. The adjustable Koni shock and steering dampener will help get an excellent start on a suspension upgrade on your coach. Koni is known as the shock absorber specialist worldwide. We commit ourselves to delivering the finest quality product with the best performance. This philosophy results in unrivaled durability, superb road performance and maximum customer satisfaction. KONI takes RV cruising comfort to the next level.

Frequency Selective Damping FSD

The first shock absorber that offers superior handling without compromising comfort. You can't find a better shock for your motorhome than FSD: KONI frequency selective dampers. We have combined the benefits of performance and comfort into one shock absorber. FSD is firm for control over large bumps and corners, but soft for comfort over expansion joints and rough roads. While KONI is known to reduce bouncing in motorhomes, our FSD shocks include a special valve that filters out annoying vibrations before they enter the coach. The result is an incredibly smooth ride, with plenty of shock left to control pitching and swaying.

For your ordering convenience we have listed all of the Koni FSD part numbers for every brand motorhome with special notes that may apply. Call Eric's RV Performance today for our special pricing.

You don't have to sacrifice an ounce of driving comfort to realize high performance. Koni motor home shock absorbers are designed to improve handling while providing an incredibly smooth ride over even the toughest roads. Koni motor home shocks are generally made with low compression forces to give you a smooth quiet ride, whereas our high rebound forces give you the handling and control you desire. The combination of these two features gives you an optimum ride, unequalled in the industry.

We have complete handling packages that will ensure you the best quality ride. Ask about our other suspension and performance upgrades.